THE [Numb. 824.]

MARYLAND GAZETTE,

Containing the lateſt Advices foreign and domeſtic.

THURSDAY, February 19, 1761.

LONDON, November 13.

TUESDAY about Three o'Clock in the Afternoon, 1300 Foot Guards, and 250 Horſe, 65 from each Troop of Horſe and Grenadier Guards, were formed upon the Parade in St. James's Park, from whence they marched to do Duty at the Funeral of his late Majeſty, at the reſpective Places appointed for them.

At Six o'Clock St. Paul's great Bell began Tolling once every Minute, which was followed in the ſame Manner by all the Bells in every Pariſh in London, which continued till Eleven o'Clock at Night.

The Guns at the Tower began firing Minute Guns about Eight o'Clock, and continued alſo till Eleven.

The Nobility, Gentry, &c. who went in Proceſſion, were marſhalled at the Door of the Houſe of Lords, from whence they proceeded through the Prince's Chamber, where his late Majeſty lay in State, which was hung all over, and the Floor covered with purple Cloth, with at leaſt 150 large Wax Candles in it, and ſo on to the Abbey.

A Line of Foot Soldiers, covered by the Horſe, kept the Mob off from the Proceſſion.

The Proceſſion of his late Majeſty's Funeral began from the Star-Chamber ſomething after Eight o'Clock; and, through ſome Miſtake, before the Torches were lighted up.

The Proceſſion marched with great Solemnity, according to the Order publiſhed in the Gazette; the Heralds attending with Papers of the Form in their Hands, and marſhalling the Nobility, Gentry and Others, agreeable thereto.

The Whole had entered the Abbey about Nine o'Clock, where the Anthem and Funeral Ceremony was performed, which took up three Quarters of an Hour, when they returned nearly in the ſame Order they went.

The Drums were all muffled up with Crape, and the Drummers ranged along the Scaffolding, beating a dead March during the Proceſſion; the Houſhold Trumpeters and Fifes walked in Mourning, with black Jockey Caps.

A Sky-Rocket was thrown up when the Royal Corpſe entered upon the Scaffolding, and another when the Proceſſion returned from the Abbey, as Signals for firing the Minute Guns.

His Royal Highneſs the Duke of Cumberland's Train (which was extremely long) was ſupported by two Dukes, aſſiſted by the Vice Chamberlain; and his Highneſs had on an extreme large full bottomed brown Wig, hanging more than half Way down his Back, with a little Powder caſt in it.

The Abbey was finely illuminated with Lamps, which made all the Monuments have a very grand and ſolemn Effect.

A great Number of Peace Officers attended on the Scaffold, many of whom, we are ſorry to ſay, paid ſo little Reſpect to the awful Solemnity, as to be out of Mourning.

His Royal Highneſs the Duke came and went in his State Coach, and not a Mourning one, neither were his Coachman and Footmen in Mourning.

The general and moſt probable Opinion of the Deſtination of our grand Expedition (which we hear has Orders to embark directly) is, that it is deſtined againſt Oſtend. Be it as it will, the Dutch are haſtening the ſhipping off the Goods they have lately purchaſed of the India Company with the utmoſt Diſpatch; as they are not ſure, but it may greatly affect them alſo.——Fears will always operate upon People when they know they are guilty of Offences that ought to be chaſtized.

By an Account lately publiſhed, of the Number of French and Engliſh Men of War taken, deſtroyed, or caſually loſt, from the Year 1755 to 1760, to the preſent Time inclusive, it appears thus: Total Loſs of the French is 104 Ships, carrying 4222 Guns: Total Loſs of the Engliſh is 24 Ships, carrying 860 Guns.

St. JOHN's (in Antigua) November 19.

A Gentleman who left Martinico the 4th Inſtant, reports, that during the ſix preceding Days, ſeven Prizes were brought in; among which were the St. Kitts Planter, bound from London to St. Kitts, and reckoned to be worth 20,000l. and a very large Schooner from London and Cork to Guadaloupe; the reſt being from the Northward. This Gentleman learnt, that the Antigua Sloop, which was diſarmed ſome Weeks ago, and ſent up as a Flag of Truce, was detained till the French could collect as many Maſters and Paſſengers as ſhe carried up Priſoners; they being reſolved to ſend no Seamen in her, ſuſpecting that ſuch a Veſſel muſt have been ſent with a Deſign to ſecure the Men for his Majeſty's Service. The Martinico Privateers were all out, to a very great Number; and Proviſions of all Sorts were very plenty and cheap there.

We hear that a very fine Brigantine, now in this Harbour, has been purchaſed for his Majeſty, and will be fitted out as a Cruiſer.

November 26. His Majeſty's Sloop Antigua, is juſt returned from Martinico with Priſoners, Seamen as well as others.

Many Veſſels were drove aſhore in the neighbouring Iſlands, by the late South Weſt Winds. At Martinico 7 or 8 were drove aſhore, and at St. Chriſtophers eleven; three or four of which it is expected will be got off.

His Majeſty's Ship Stirling Caſtle, of 74 Guns, Captain Everit, arrived here laſt Night, and brought in a Brig, laden with Sugar and Coffee from Hiſpaniola, which ſhe took 16 Days ago.

From Santa Croix, and the neighbouring Iſlands, we hear, that the French Privateers are very numerous thereabouts, hardly a Day paſſes without ſome of our Northwardmen being carried into Santa Croix, and they are generally ſold the next Day.

We hear, that a fine Brigantine, called the Virgin, and another called the Guadaloupe are now fitting out at Engliſh Harbour.

It is ſtrongly reported, and generally believed, that the Privateer Sloop Saunders, Captain Stevenſon, belonging to this Place, has been ſunk by two armed Veſſels from Coracoa, who wilfully ſuffered the Captain and all his Company to periſh.

BASSETERRE (in St. Chriſtophers) Dec. 17.

His Majeſty's Ships have brought in the following Prizes to the Road of Baſſeterre, in this Iſland, viz.

A Ship from Martinico, with Sugar and Coffee, by the Culloden, John Barker, Eſq; Commander, upon the 13th.

A Schooner with Proviſions, bound to St. Vincent, by the Tender of the Emerald, Charles Middleton, Eſq; Commander, upon the 13th.

A Schooner with ſome Tobacco and other Goods, from St. Vincent, by the Griffin, Thomas Taylor, Eſq; Commander, upon the 15th.

Dec. 20. It is ſaid that the following Prizes were carried into Martinico, between the 18th of November and the 13th Inſtant.

A Snow, Curry, from Cape-Fear; a Sloop, Brown, from Cork; a Brig, Barron, from Virginia; a Schooner, Bogue, from Boſton; a Snow, Gardner, from Cork; a Brig, Tere, from Africa; a Snow, Creagh, from Cape-Fear; a Brig, Wier, from Maryland; a Snow, Hoymus, from Rhode-Iſland; a Sloop, Coddington, from Ditto; a Sloop, Aſkew, from Cork; a Snow, Revely, from London; a Schooner with Slaves, from St. Kitts; a Schooner, Seton, from Salem; a Sloop, Ellis, from Plymouth; a Ship, late Dibden, from Guadaloupe; a Schooner, from Ditto; and a Snow, Buchanan, from Glaſgow.

Dec. 24. By a Veſſel from Barbados we hear, that his Majeſty's Ship Emerald, Charles Middleton, Eſq; Commander, has lately taken and ſent to that Iſland two French Privateers, of 8 and 10 Guns.

Upon the 21ſt Inſtant arrived in the Road of Baſſeterre, in this Iſland, a Sloop taken by his Majeſty's ſaid Ship Emerald; and on the 22d, a Brigantine taken by his Majeſty's Sloop Guadaloupe, Roger Williams, Eſq; Commander.

Dec. 31. On the 23d Inſtant, a Sloop from Martinico was brought in by his Majeſty's Ship Creſcent, Thomas Collingwood, Eſq; Commander.

BOSTON, January 19.

Since our laſt we have had an extreme cold Seaſon, whereby our Harbour has been for two or three Days almoſt filled with Ice.——We have within this Time had ſeveral Alarms by the Cry of Fire, which were ſoon extinguiſhed, without any extraordinary Damage occurring, until Tueſday Evening laſt, when at about Half an Hour after Nine o'Clock a violent Fire broke out in one of the Shops oppoſite the North Side of Faneuil-Hall-Market, on Dock-Square, which entirely conſumed all the Row of wooden Buildings from the Store occupied by the Honourable Thomas Hubbard, Eſq; to the Swing Bridge. Theſe Buildings belonged to the Town, and were leaſed to a Number of Tradeſmen, ſome of whom had their whole Stock therein, moſt of which was either conſumed or loſt. There were ſeveral ſmall Schooners in the Dock, but they received little Damage; nor did the Fire proceed to the North Side of the Dock; on the contrary, it communicated itſelf to that ſtately Edifice Faneuil-Hall-Market, the whole of which was ſoon entirely conſumed, excepting the Brick Walls, which are left ſtanding: The Fire then proceeded to a Number of Shops, improved by ſome Tradeſmen, on the South Side of the Market, and conſumed them alſo: The Wind riſing about this Time, carried the Flakes of Fire over the Houſes towards King-ſtreet, and the Ware-houſes and Stores on the Town-Dock, and Long-Wharff, wherein were the greateſt Quantities of the richeſt Merchandize in the Town. The Inhabitants having the Fire of laſt Spring recent in their Minds, they were apprehenſive of a further Deſtruction, eſpecially as the Tide was down, the Dock filled with Ice, and ſome of the Pumps in the Neighbourhood failing; many People removed their Goods, ſome of which received Damage thereby: The Severity of the Weather was ſuch, that many Perſons could ſcarce ſtand it; and the Water which iſſued from the Engines congealed into Particles of Ice before it fell.——Altho' the Flames and Flakes of Fire fell on many Houſes and Stores, yet no Dwelling-houſe was conſumed; one or two near the Market were conſiderably damaged.——Never were Slates on Houſes diſcovered to be of ſo much Advantage as at that Time; for when great Flakes of Fire fell thereon, they immediately run off, without doing any Miſchief.

The Loſs of Faneuil-Hall-Market muſt be great to this Town, as it was a noble Building, eſteemed one of the beſt Pieces of Workmanſhip here, and an Ornament to the Town: It was built near 20 Years ago, at the ſole Expence of the late generous Peter Faneuil, Eſq; the capacious Hall, which bore the Founder's Name, would contain above 1000 of the Inhabitants at a Meeting.——There were convenient Apartments for the Officers of the Town to tranſact their reſpective Buſineſſes therein; beſides two Offices at the Eaſt End of the lower Floor, one of which was improved as a Naval Office, and the other a Notary Public's: The other Part was very commodious for a Market.——The Records, Papers, &c. with ſuch other Things as could be removed, were moſtly ſaved.

There are near 20 Tradeſmen deprived of Shops by this Fire, which muſt make it extremely difficult in this Winter Seaſon; eſpecially when it is conſidered, that many of thoſe who loſt their Shops in March laſt, are not yet ſupplied with proper Places to carry on their reſpective Buſineſſes.

The frequent Fires in this Town in Winter, are occaſioned oftentimes by the great Quantities of Charcoal which are burnt in Pots; wherefore it cannot be taken amiſs to remind Perſons to ſee that their Pots of Fire are well extinguiſhed before they leave them; and that they have their Chimnies ſwept; and particularly to be careful of Aſhes, which are generally carried into Cellars.

Extract of a Letter from Captain Levi Stutſon, of the Snow Britannia, bound from Newcaſtle to this Place, dated Ocergil, near Caithneſs, October 21, 1760.

"This is to inform you of my Diſaſter laſt Night, being Ship-wrecked near Caithneſs, in the North of Scotland, and the Veſſel and Cargo entirely loſt. Our People got all ſafe on Shore in a ſmall Boat, except the Mate, one Man and myſelf, who tarried for the Boat's coming off again; but the Sea was ſo high, that the Boat could not come off to take us in: We were obliged to ſtay on board; the Veſſel ſoon went to Pieces, and myſelf, the Mate and the other Man, were waſhed about in the Wreck five Hours, and at laſt got on Shore on the Boltſprit, but deſtitute of Cloaths, having thrown the heavieſt off, in order to ſwim."

NEW-YORK, January 29.

It is thought the following Account is not quite unworthy of Notice, viz. A few Days before Chriſtmas laſt, a very valuable Negro, named Cæſar, belonging to the Widow Furman, at Colt's Neck, in Monmouth County, New-Jerſey, was found dead, at ſome Diſtance from Home, and being conjectured to have died by Accident, was buried; but ſoon after, a Neighbour informing, that the Night before he had heard great Cries of Murder near the Place where the Negro was found; and that he would have gone to the Aſſiſtance of the Diſtreſſed, but that a very large Mill-Pond lay in the Way, which he could not croſs.—The Negro was taken up again, and both his Legs found broke, and his Neck diſlocated: Whereupon further Search was made, and at the Place of the Out-Cry was found many Marks of Cæſar's ſtruggling with his Adverſaries, and ſeveral plain Tokens of his having been hang'd on a low Limb of a Tree.——It ſeems Cæſar had made his Addreſſes ſome Time to a neighbouring Wench, who had received him kindly, and they were to have been married at Chriſtmas; but another Fellow who alſo addreſſed the Wench, not being received well, and jealous of Cæſar, and having ſeveral Negro Friends, it is thought poor Cæſar was Way-laid, and murdered in that Manner; and this Suſpicion is corroborated, by a Perſon's having heard an old Wench tell Cæſar a few Days before, that if he continued to viſit that young Wench, he would not live to ſee Chriſtmas.——Several Negroes have ſince been taken up on the Account, and 'tis thought the Truth will be diſcovered: So that poor Cæſar's Antagoniſt is likely to be found in a worſe State than the Dog in the Manger.

Near the ſame Place as the above, a few Days ago, three or four Men dug out of the Side of a Hill, from whence a fine Spring iſſued, Fifty-two large Rattle-Snakes, and Nineteen Black Snakes, all twined together in one Bunch or Knot: The cold Weather prevented their making any Reſiſtance, though the Rattle-Snakes were ſo lively as to be able to rattle pretty briſkly:——They cut the Heads of the Rattle Snakes off, and then ſkin'd them:——The Digging was purpoſely after them, as a great Number had been ſeen near the Spring the Summer before.

On Monday laſt the Earl of Halifax Packet Boat, Captain Boulderſon, failed from hence for Falmouth.

We hear there are ſeveral Veſſels aſhore between the Capes of Delaware and Sandy-Hook; one of them we know to be a Brig inward bound from the Weſt-Indies, Brown, Maſter, belonging to this Port.

Captain Corne, in a Snow belonging to this Port alſo, bound in from Jamaica, is aſhore on the South-Side of Long-Iſland.

We are credibly informed, that a Privateer Sloop, belonging to Jamaica, late the Fox of this Port, in an Engagement with a French Privateer of 6 Guns, off Hiſpaniola, was blown up, and that her whole Crew, one Man excepted, periſhed.

February 2. Captain Marſhall, who arrived here from Briſtol about ten Days ago, informs us, That on the 23d of November laſt, he ſpoke with his Majeſty's Ship the Loo, which a few Days before had retaken the Brig Ruby, from Maryland for London, that was taken on her Paſſage by a French Privateer; and the 23d of November alſo, Captain Marſhall fell in with his Majeſty's Ship the Hero, of 74 Guns, the Captain whereof informed him, that he had taken, a ſhort Time before, ſeven Privateers belonging to Bayonne.

Wedneſday

Wednesday last a Brig from Quebec, Allen, Master, bound to Philadelphia, put in here, and was drove on the Rocks, at the West Side of Nutten-Island, by the Ice, but got off again, without receiving much Damage.

At the same Time was drove on the same Rocks, a Schooner with Wheat, from Maryland, Tucker, Master; but she is got off also, with little or no Damage.

Thursday Evening was sent in here, by the Privateer Sloop Harlequin, Captain Oman, a Snow, called the Prince William the 7th, which he took in the Bite of Leoganne, bound from Port au Prince for Coracoa, with 150 Hogsheads of Sugar. The said Snow loaded at Marseilles, in Old-France, and landed that Cargo at Port au Prince.

PHILADELPHIA, February 5.

We have Advice from St. Christophers, that Captain M'Pherson, of the Britannia Privateer, of this Port, has retaken two Snows; one from London for Antigua, with King's Stores; the other from Marblehead for Guadaloupe, loaded with Fish and Lumber: That he has taken a large Dutch Ship, in her Ballast, from Martinico: That he took a Dutch Brig from a small Privateer, belonging to St. Christophers, suspecting some Collusion between the Captains: And that he had informed the Culloden Man of War of a Dutch Ship brought into Sandy Point by the same Privateer; which Ship the Culloden cut out, and carried to Basseterre.

ANNAPOLIS, February 19.

We hear that Capt. James Reith, in a Brigantine belonging to this Province, from the West-Indies, was lately cast away about 20 Leagues to the Northward of Cape Charles; the Vessel and Part of the Cargo lost; but the People saved.

Last Tuesday Evening, Died, at his Father's House on Elk-Ridge, of a confirmed Consumption, in the 23d Year of his Age, Mr. BASIL DORSEY, junior, of this City, Attorney at Law; a young Gentleman of great Hopes, endowed with many amiable Qualifications, which, if ripened by Years, must have rendered him eminent in his Profession, and a conspicuous Character in social Life. But, alas! just as he had appeared at the Bar, and given a Specimen of his Abilities, Death has prevented us of our Expectations: He is cut off in the Bloom of Life, and universally regretted by a numerous Acquaintance.

Last Week Two Men were committed to Prison here, for breaking open and robbing a Store at the Head of South-River.

One Morning last Month, a young Infant was found Dead in a Well at Chester-Town in Kent County. It was drawn up by the Bucket, and had lain there for some Time. It had a String round it's Neck, was cramm'd into Part of a Stocking, and is suppos'd to have been tied to a Pair of Pot-Hooks which was found at the Bottom, to sink it. The suppos'd Mother is taken up and committed to Prison there.

Last Week a Woman in Baltimore County, who had lived near Deer-Creek, was committed to Prison at Joppa, for the Murder of a Bastard Child. She was often tax'd with being with Child, but always denied it; and at the Time of her Travail, went to the Creek Side, and was Delivered by herself, and flung the Child in. A few Days after, the dead Child being found by the Children of the House, and she being charg'd with it, confess'd the Fact.

And on Tuesday Afternoon last, a Dead Female Child was found floating in a Pond in this Town, few'd up in a Linen Rag, supposed to have been not above 4 or 5 Days since the Birth. A large Pin was stuck in the Hip of it, and some other Marks of Violence. The Mother (if Wretches of her Stamp may be call'd by that Appellation) is not yet discover'd; but it is hop'd she will soon, (Now being the proper Time for Examination) not only that the Guilty may suffer, but that the Innocent and Virtuous may be cleared from the malicious Whispers and Aspersions of the Ill-minded and Censorious.
